Paul Stambaugh

Hi, I am graphic designer based out of Seattle, WA. The focus of my design style is illustration & web design with a strong eye for client needs.

Design philosophy -

“Be like water” - Bruce Lee

Client: L-Train Films

Owner: Lisa Levey Date: January 2008 to Current

Project: Web Site Design www.ltrainfilms.com

Task: Create online demo reel to showcase video.

Design Solution: The client had a very specific idea of tone and style of design, and the beta version was all Flash. After some discussion about site growth and video file management the choice to have an HTML back end with Flash modules. This did two things, one it allowed for a much easier update in the future as well as providing better SEO for the Client.

Client: 24 Seven Tax & Insurance

Owner: Au Nguyen Date: January 2005 to Current

Project: Web and Identity Design

Task: Create two identities and web sites that are similar but for two different types of services.

Design Solution: All the back end coding, layout, and design as well as beta testing in one period. The next phase was to switch out the graphics to the clients color schemes. The turn around time on this project was short with the goal of getting set up for coming tax season.

Client: The Maldives

Owner: The Maldives Date: January 2006 to Current

Project: Identity, T-shirt, and Web Site Design www.themaldivesmusic.com

Task: Update site adding more features and blog area, increasing brand identity and consolidation

Design Solution: Working with this client started with a simple T-shirt design, then web site, and now for their new Album we are putting together the CD design along with a web site update. Our first project, logo design was to help them put a concept behind their music in to a iconic image. The web site needed to be updated to wordpress so they can promote their new album and upcoming tour, which include an area for photos and video uploading.
